Coming up

---

July 20th-24th:

Water, Water Everywhere

Science Experiments: Unleashing the Mini-Mad Scientists

This weeks activities are:

Monday: Science journals and volcanoes

Tuesday: Gymnastics and elephant toothpaste

Wednesday: Color changing milk and magic mixtures

Thursday: Sheila Dean guest speaker!

Friday: Liquid, water, gas, solid

Supplies Needed

---

We could still use some glass jars for upcoming weeks!

Sheila Dean

Ms Dean teaches 6th grade science for the Conway Public School District. While she enjoys most aspects of teaching, she LOVES the days she can show kids the magic of experimentation! Even better, is showing kids that magic IS science! She has two preschool aged children herself, and loves discovering the science in everyday life with them. She will be here to show our kiddos how to discover the magic of science in THEIR everyday world!

Water Week Supplies

Looking ahead to water week, there are a few things we could put to good use! We are in need of some aquarium rocks and fake aquarium plants. We will be making ocean habitats for your children to take home. If you have any kind of corks, we could use them to make boats with! We will do a project similar to engineering week and see if we can make boats that float. Also, if anyone has one of those little blue plastic kiddie pools that we could use for our big outside water day, please let me know.

Best wishes!
